Letter of reference for George Zoupanos

I know Prof. George Zoupanos for more than 20 years of his professional career. He has an international reputation for his scientific papers published in the first class international journals on high energy physics, for his talks at international conferences, for his skill in organization of international conferences and schools in Greece. George is a frequent visitor of the conferences at the Joint Institute for Nuclear Research - international scientific organization, where he regularly gives talks on the subject of his research. He is a noticeable member of the international physics community, coordinator and principle investigator of the national and European research programmes. During his career he worked as an invited professor at the Universities round the world, his contribution is highly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Dmitri Kazakov
